Last updated: February 15, 2022

This privacy policy is meant to help you understand what data Coastal Enterprises, Inc. ("CEI") and its related pages (the "Website" or "Site") collect when you use the Website, why we collect it, what we do with it, and how we protect it. CEI, which owns and operates the Website, is committed to ensuring that your privacy is protected. This is important, so we hope you will take time to read it carefully.

The terms "we," "our," and "us," in this Privacy Policy refer to CEI. "You" and "your" refer to you as a user of the Website.

BY USING AND/OR PARTICIPATING IN/ON THE SITE, YOU SIGNIFY THAT YOU HAVE READ THE TERMS IN THIS PRIVACY POLICY AND AGREE TO BE BOUND BY, AND COMPLY WITH, THEM. IF YOU DO NOT AGREE TO BE BOUND BY, AND COMPLY WITH, THESE TERMS, PLEASE PROMPTLY EXIT THE SITE.

Information We Collect

Information is collected from you at several different points during your visit to the Website.

Information You Give Us

At certain points during your visit to the Website you may be asked to provide information about yourself, or given the option to provide certain information. The active collection points on our Website include:

- When a user completes or edits a listing on the site
- When a user fills out a contact form on the site

- When a user purchases tickets to an event on the site
- When a user subscribes to the newsletter

The information requested may include your email address, name, phone number, company and other business information.

You have the choice about whether to disclose the information necessary to complete a listing.

Passive Collection of Information

In addition to information that you actively provide us, we collect information about how you interact with the Website. For example, like many websites, we use "cookies," web beacons, and remarketing services (which are discussed in more detail below). The types of passive information collected by the Website include, but are not necessarily limited to, your IP address, which type of browser you are using, where you go on the Website, and how long you stay on any part of the Website.

Analytics, Web Beacons, & Cookies

Analytics

We use the services of third parties to collect and analyze statistical data about visitors to our Website, and to collect certain information and send out emails and other mailings/correspondence. Some of these analytic and/or mailing services collect personally identifiable information about you.

Web Beacons

The Website may contain electronic images known as Web Beacons (sometimes called single-pixel gifs) that allow us to count users who have visited certain web pages. Web Beacons are not used to access your personally identifiable information; they are a technique we use to compile aggregated statistics about usage of our Website. Web Beacons collect only a limited set of information including a cookie number, time and date of a page view, and a description of the page on which the Web Beacon resides.

Cookies

We use “cookies” to collect and store information related to how our Site is used when you visit the Website in order to improve our services for you. Cookies are files with a small amount of data, which may include an anonymous unique identifier. Cookies are sent to your browser from a web site and transferred to your device.

We use both session ID cookies and persistent cookies. A session ID cookie expires when you close your browser. A persistent cookie remains on your hard drive for an extended period of time.

We use session cookies to monitor your interaction with the Website. We also use permanent cookies to track click streams. We do not link cookie data to personally identifiable information.

You can instruct your browser to refuse all cookies or to indicate when a cookie is being sent. The “help” feature on most browsers provides information on how to accept cookies, disable cookies, and how to receive a notice when receiving a new cookie. If you do not accept cookies, you may not be able to use some features of our Site.

Some of our business partners (such as advertisers) use cookies on our Website. We have no access to or control over these cookies. Our privacy policy covers the use of cookies by us only and does not cover the use of cookies by any business partner(s).

We also use certain third-party remarketing services. These third parties use cookies in order to serve you ads based on your past visits to our Website. What this means is that you may see ads on different sites across the internet that are targeted to you based on the parts of our Website you have viewed, because a cookie has been placed on your machine. Remarketing allows us to tailor our marketing to better suit your needs and helps to display ads that are relevant to you. You can opt out of Google's use of cookies by visiting Google's Ads Settings page, located here: <http://google.com/settings/ads/onweb/optout?hl=en>. You can opt out of third-party vendor's use of cookies by visiting the Network Advertising Initiative opt out page, located here: <http://optout.networkadvertising.org/#/>.

From time to time we may decide that it is more efficient to use third parties to perform specific services, such as sending newsletters or other correspondence to our users. If we use a third party to provide a specific service your information may be shared with those third-party partners to the extent necessary for those organizations to provide services to us or to our users. Any such organizations who receive user information for this purpose are required to keep the information confidential and only use it to provide services to us or our Site users.

- To protect the safety and security of visitors to the Website;
- To permit us to pursue available remedies or limit the damages that you may sustain; and/or
- To enforce the Terms of Service.

We may also share aggregate, non-personal information about website usage with third parties. This aggregate information does not contain any personal information about our users.

The third-party services covered by this section do not include links to third-party websites found on the Website, which are governed by the section of this Privacy Policy (“When this Privacy Policy Applies”) dealing with links to other websites.

When this Privacy Policy Applies

Our Privacy Policy applies to the Website. It does not apply to other websites or services that have separate privacy policies that do not incorporate this Privacy Policy. The Website may contain links to other
